

HumAngle

MILESTONE EDITION

November 2021

Blameless But On Death Row

File photo: Ekohotblog

Jailbreaks In Nigeria On The Rise

The number of attacks on prison facilities in Nigeria resulting in jailbreaks have spiked frighteningly. A prison facility in Ibadan, Oyo state was attacked twice in four days. Why is this the case? HumAngle examined the trend and identified reasons behind these.

Aftermath of jailbreak at Abolongo Correctional Centre, Oyo, Oyo State. Source: Oyo State Governor's Official Facebook Page

<https://humanglemedia.com/the-number-of-jailbreak-in-nigeria-is-rising/>

Adaptation Engineering Shores Up ISWAP's War Inventory

ISWAP gun trucks in camouflage scheme and one rear improvised armoured vehicle constructed by the group.

ISWAP's ability to capture, modify and utilise motorised vehicles in the Lake Chad war fronts have not gone unnoticed. Indeed that ability is keeping them in contention.

<https://humanglemedia.com/iswaps-transport-inventory-engineering-capacities-feeding-its-campaign-of-terror/>

Cultism Thrives In Lagos Public Schools

In Lagos, Southwest Nigeria, public secondary schools are serving as incubation grounds for cultists further compounding the insecurity concerns in the country.

Suspected secondary school cultists paraded by the Lagos State Police Command. Source: The Guardian Nigeria.

<https://humanglemedia.com/how-cultism-thrives-in-lagos-public-secondary-schools/>

Conflict And Period Poverty: Rags, Leaves For Menstruation

“Getting money is difficult. When we go outside to work, some people treat us badly.

So the little money I get, I use it for feeding and then use rags for my monthly periods.” The depressing words of one of the women represent the reality for all the women in a Benue IDP

Women at Tse Yandev camp. Photo: Anita Eboigbe/HumAngle

camp. <https://humanglemedia.com/conflict-and-period-poverty-rags-leaves-for-menstruation-in-benue-idp-camp/>

Communities Sacrifice Infants To Deity Forcing Intervention From A Home.

Vine Heritage Home Foundation. Photo Credit: Zubaida B. Ibrahim/HumAngle.

Over 100 years after Mary Slessor battled primitive cultures that sacrificed twins to a deity at birth, Bassa communities close to Abuja are still deeply in the practice as HumAngle found out. But Vine Heritage Home run by missionary couple is intervening to rescue the situation..

<https://humanglemedia.com/abuja-communities-sacrifice-infants-to-deity-a-home-comes-to-the-rescue/>

Fleeing Boko Haram, Being Branded One

Gambo Modu's story of arrest by soldiers, being labeled Boko Haram suspect while he was fleeing the terror group is the story of many men in Borno, Northeast Nigeria. He, like several others were routinely profiled and detained without investigation.

Gambo Modu & family re-unite in a displacement camp. Photo: Hauwa Shaffii Muhu/HumAngle.

<https://humanglemedia.com/surviving-hell-1-he-was-fleeing-boko-haram-got-branded-as-one/>

On Death Row for Wrongful Convictions

victims of wrongful conviction at Centre for Justice Mercy and Reconciliation. Photo: Adejumo Kabir/HumAngle.

Many accused persons in Nigeria do not get fair trials and end up getting punished for crimes they did not commit. Such injustices are worsened by irregularities at the investigatory, pre-trial, and trial stages of the criminal justice system.

<https://humanglemedia.com/surviving-death-row-anguish-of-nigerians-jailed-for-decades-after-wrongful-convictions/>

Farmers, Herders Walking On Eggshells In Terror-Ravaged Northwest

“There is no peace. You can’t go to the forest and farm. You can only stay next to your house if there is a farm nearby. And if there is no farm, you have nothing to do.” These words by Dahiru Tukur Daza, a farmer in Guzau captures the terror that rules much of Northwest farmers.

<https://humanglemedia.com/farmers-herders-walking-on-eggshells-in-terror-ravaged-northwest-nigeria/>

Food Diversion Hits Borno IDPs

Hunger is a constant feature of life for Internally Displaced Persons (IDPs) in Borno State, Northeast Nigeria. HumAngle investigation suggest that camp officials are responsible. Recent public outrage by the victims confirm HumAngle investigations.

<https://humanglemedia.com/bor-no-idps-bemoan-food-diversion-cases-by-local-camp-officials/>

Butchered And Alone: Female IDPs In Benue State Lick Their Wounds

Felicia was cut in the back with a machete. Anita Eboigbe/HumAngle

Attacks by criminal herders on farming communities across Nigeria is well documented. What is not so distinctly narrated is the form they take on women farmers. Felicia Bako is one and with others share their experiences with HumAngle.

<https://humanglemedia.com/butchered-and-alone-female-idps-in-benue-state-lick-their-wounds/>